Making a yearbook takes time and dedication. This year's staff decided on the theme, Undercover, in order to uncover the intense enthusiasm that belongs to our school. It is impossible for any one person to know all that takes place here at O.H.S. We attempted to reveal as much as possible in these 152 pages.

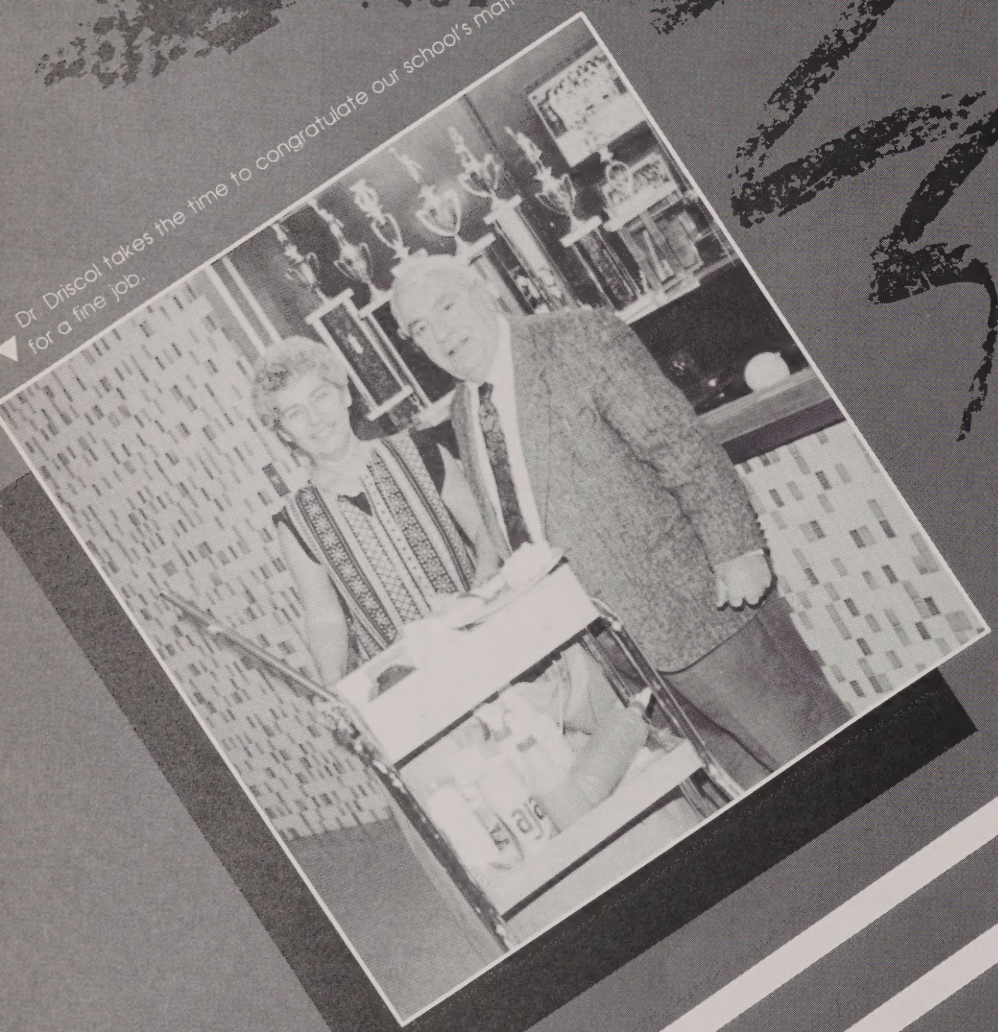
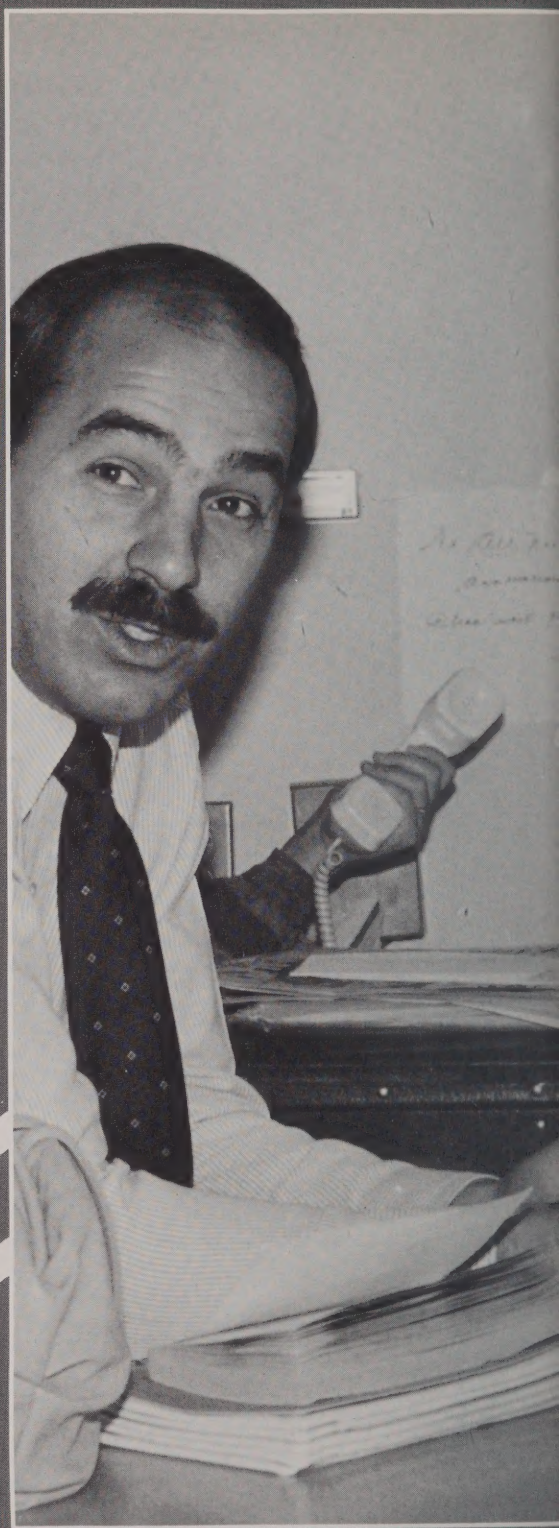
United as One...



Dr. Driscol takes the time to congratulate our school's matron for a fine job.



Mr. Palermo asks Mrs. Clark about a message that he received.

Mr. Madge concentrates intently on perfecting the piano accompaniment of a song for a concert.

Unexpected Praise...

It was in 1970 that she joined the staff at Oxford High School, the same year that the Class of 1988 was born. What she has done for us she has also done for the seventeen classes that have preceeded us.

Diligently and unselfishly she has worked behind the scenes making sure everything was where it should be when it was needed. All the tape, scissors and glue we ever used, the report cards we received, the information we sought, the occasions we attended, the awards we achieved, the invitations we shared, the caps and gowns we wore and the diplomas we earned came about only after she saw to them. It is because of her efforts that this school runs as smoothly and efficiently as it does.

She has always been a shining example of a true lady. Her grace and quiet strength have been her trademark in spite of such a hectic and demanding environment in which she works. And so it is with deep gratitude that we, the Class of 1988, dedicate this edition of the Ravelin's to Mrs. Phyllis Carey, yet it pales in comparison to the dedication with which she has served us.

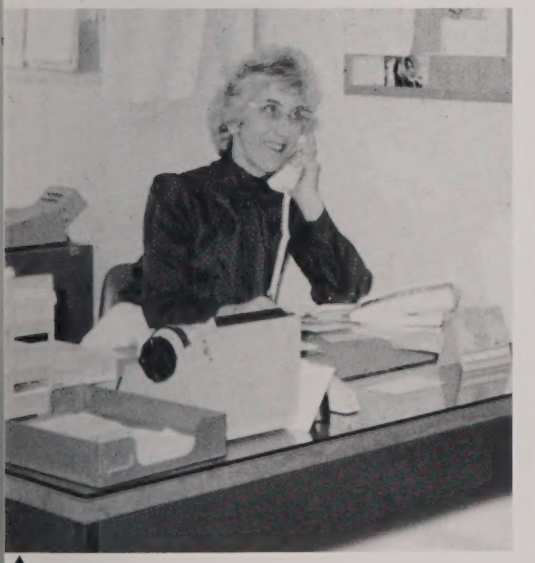
◀ Mrs. Carey has worked hard to help keep O.H.S. running smoothly.

▼ Our thanks and praise go out to Mrs. Carey.



▲ A smile appears for all those who need assistance.

▲ This special lady has devoted much of her time to Oxford High School.

What it takes to be Spirited.

On October 2, we had an opportunity to show that "The spirit is alive at Oxford High." For this event, the gymnasium was transformed from a barren place void of decorations into a crowded space filled with posters, streamers, balloons, and the like. Each class's section decorated to outdo the other.

The Student Council organized a small competition where each class had posters, a banner, a verbal cheer, and a student pirate. Some of the teachers served as judges. Each category was given points based on workmanship, originality, and adherence to the theme. The class that acquired the most points won the grand prize of $150. The second and third prizes were $100 and $50. The sophomores, seniors, and eighth graders won the prizes, respectively.

Join the Fun!

Posters advertising the day decorated the halls of the school for a week before the homecoming. Booths for food and drink, raffles, and games were set up behind the school for people to enjoy.

After setting up at 10am, students and advisors were ready for the fund raising activities. The seniors served hamburgers and had a dart throwing game while the juniors had a ring toss, balloons, and ice cream. The sophomores served terriaki while patrons took their chances on the roulette wheel. Fruit salad was served by the freshmen and a treasure chest was filled with prizes for fishing. Grade eight sold baked goods accompanied by face painting and a football toss.

The public was invited to join in the day's fun. Many parents brought youngsters to play the games; Alumni came to celebrate the event.

At 2pm, the girls soccer team kicked off the day's sports events. Field hockey and boys soccer followed, leaving the football to play in the evening.

The day's events were very successful for all of those involved.

Out With the Old in With the New...

At the close of the '86-'87 school year, our principal Roger Bacon had dropped hints to the faculty and students that the cafeteria would bear a new look when the students returned for the '87-'88 school year.

September came, and the cafeteria looked the same. The same drab green curtains, tan chairs, and the same off-white tables being occupied by 12-20 people which were meant to seat 8-10 people.

It began to look as though it had all been just a rumor. Then, one morning in mid-October students arrived to a "bright" and "shape-"ly cafeteria with new tables and new chairs.

The shapes of the tables were ovals, circles, squares, and rectangles and each had a different eye-catching color. The new tan chairs complimented the new tables.

The furniture was welcomed with open arms, for students had begun to give up looking for chairs to sit on, elbow room and a spot to place their tray in the crowded lunch periods.

The new furniture was ordered by Mr. Bacon with art teacher Mrs. Briody's help on color and shape scheme. Thanks to these people and the school committee, lunch has become more enjoyable and students are using the furniture with care in hopes that it will be as good as new for the Class of 2008, 20 years from now!

Unusual Attire ...

Each year the senior class is allowed to dress up in exciting outfits in order to relive the childhood traditions of halloween. Accompanying this annual event is a breakfast for seniors which is prepared and served by faculty. This year's menu consisted of pancakes, sausage, orange juice, and milk.

A brief skit was performed by some of the underclassmen in order to 'roast' some members of the senior class. The class advisor, Mrs. Lawrence helped arrange the entire event.

Even a Roman emperor, Henry Sekurski, needs a bodyguard, Wayne Zarycki, with a loaded "cap-gun".

Here, some seniors are caught making fashion statements for 1987.

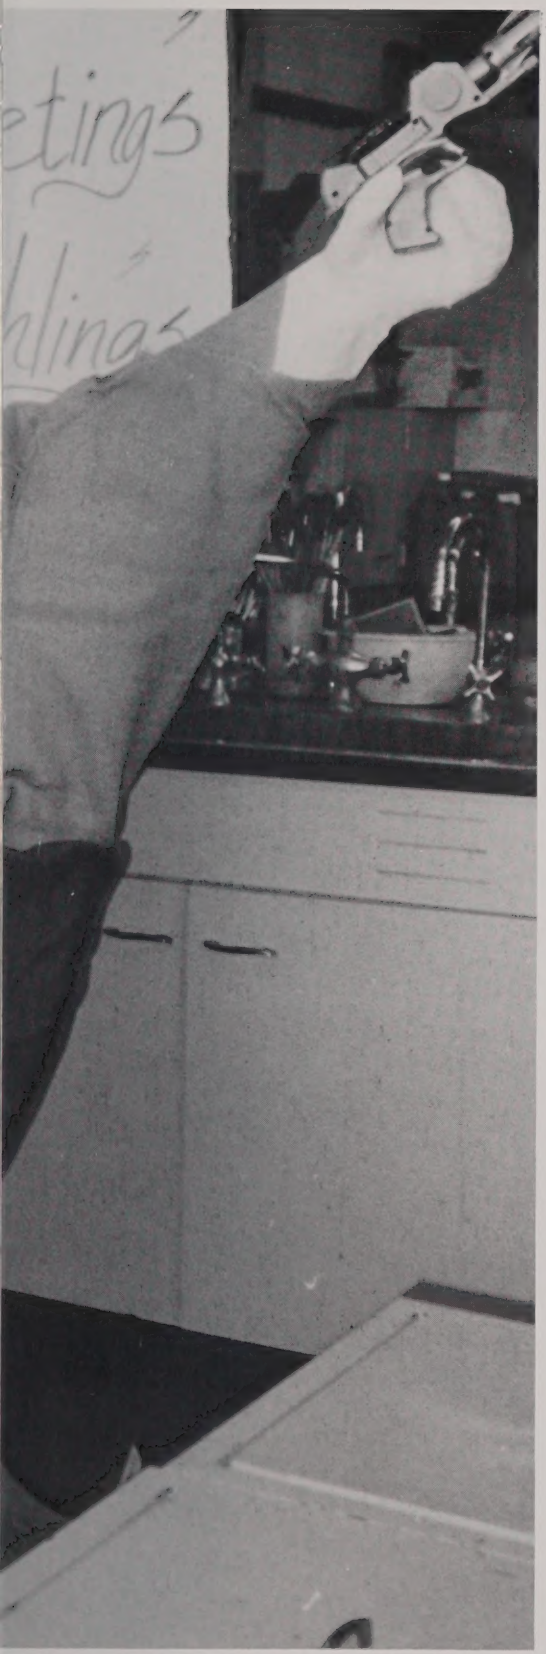
Getting Ready to...

What do the eighth graders, freshmen, sophomores, juniors and even the seniors all have in common?!? They all know what to do when there's an empty gymnasium or cafeteria... sell tickets, create a mood with all sorts of decorations, recruit some willing & daring teachers and their respected dates as chaperones, start the music, let the crowd in and dance the night away!

Dances have been a great class fundraiser making anywhere from four hundred to a thousand dollars, depending on the ticket price. More importantly, the dances allow the students to get together and enjoy a night of song and dance with friends and fellow classmates.

The limbo, "Twist and Shout", and everone's favorite "Stairway to Heaven" by Led Zepplin are among the most popular in addition to the current hit singles.

▲ These students tape the names and uniform numbers of Oxford's outstanding athletes to the wall.



This alien life-form greeted students to the first dance in the gymnasium.

These juniors began to prepare for a dance by hanging decorations.

Sophomore, Jenifer Ivascyn, attends to some Halloween decorations.

Dance the Night Away!

Spinning records, flashing lights, slow and fast rhythms... They all make up a night of dancing. The dances held in the cafeteria and gymnasium are among the favorite past times of many O.H.S. students.

These events give students a chance to relax and have fun with friends. Over the past year at O.H.S., the class of '88 introduced a new twist to the dances - a lip sync competition. All grade levels competed in the contest using all types of songs.

Dances are important to the students and are also fun for the students here at O.H.S.

▲ Kristine LaFleche and Carleen Catusi demonstrate their musical talents by participating in a lip sync contest.

Christmas at O.H.S.

Christmas spirit was alive at O.H.S. this year. The senior class kicked off the season by decorating their hallway with stockings and Christmas trees. The Student Council spread the joyous spirit during the Senior Citizen dinner that was held in the cafeteria.

The junior class sponsored the annual Christmas dance in the gym. Many students attended this event which honored the O.H.S. football players, as well as pictures with Santa Claus, alias Brian Erickson, were taken at lunchtime on the Friday the 17th before vacation. Later, for the closing of the school day, the band and chorus performed excerpts from the annual Christmas concert.

▲ Glenn Murphy, Jeremy Walsh, and Kevin Biando have been recruited to be Santa's helpers.

The Anatomy and Physiology class used various objects to create their second-place Christmas tree. ▼

CLASS APPRECIATION...

Mrs. Lawrence has been more than a teacher and an advisor to the class of 1988. After a terribly awkward eighth grade year, we adopted Mrs. Lawrence to help us change from a group of children into family.

Through our years at O.H.S. she has encouraged the class to work out problems, formulate ideas and then carry them through, and overcome any obsticles that we encountered. She has guided us in many decisions and handled many difficulties.

Each year the bonds between Mrs. Lawrence and the class have become stronger forcing no one to be able to forget their high school years. We'd like to give thanks to a special woman for all of the hardships that she has endured with and for the class of '88. Her services will always be remembered and greatly appreciated.

With much love,

A FRIEND FOREVER...

On September 20, 1986 the class of 1988 lost a very dear friend, David Richards. Dave was a shy person who had many friends, because he never passed judgment on others. Dave's pride and joy was his 1976 Pontiac Formula Firebird, which he restored with the help of his brother and close friends. We'll always remember Dave for his fun-loving and sensitive personality. We'll all miss Dave and never forget him.

Junior Prom... Dancing Undercover

May 1, 1987 brought 75 couples together to dance and eat to the music of DJ, Lew Derrell and Edward's Catering of Milford, MA from 6:30pm to Midnight. The chosen theme was "Dreams". This long awaited event was elaborately decorated with silver stars, blue, light blue, gray and white balloons and streamers, a student made castle and bridge covered with grass and flowers, and dry ice was used to create a dream effect.

The best couples chosen by the teacher-chaperones were:

Sean Preston and date Lorelle Dodge
Donald Mann and date Amy Burdett
Kevin Biando and date Romaine Catusi
Tonya Troy and date Michael Faubert
Paula Bovenzi and date Michael D'Alio
Kim McGovern and date Tom Herrion

High Achievers...

Every year, certain individuals are selected to win different awards. This year, Bryan Moiles was elected by the student body to be our Good Government Day Representative. The Girl's State Representatives were Carrie Hubert and Kim Jones. The Boy's State Representatives were Mark Brulé and Stephen McGrath. Karen Oberg was elected Daughters of the American Revolution by the senior class. The Harvard Book Award winner was Stephen McGrath. He also was awarded a National Merit commendation. Kim Jones was awarded the Superintendent's Award for Excellence in addition to the Bausch & Lomb Science Award.

We congratulate these students and wish them well in the future. Good Luck.

An UNBELIEVABLE Year ...

Preparing for a prom is a lot of hard work and requires dedication. A prom committee is formed by any junior class student who is willing to spend the time to make preparations and decisions concerning the prom. This committee is then broken down into sub-committees which are assigned the tasks of choosing an overall theme, theme song, a band or a disc jockey, the decorations, a caterer, the invitations, the color schemes, and a photographer.

Although the cost of the prom may run rather high, it becomes a small price to pay for the memories that will be created on the evening of April 29, 1988. No one should have to miss his or her junior prom and thanks to the work of Mrs. Gagne the class advisor, the class officers and the prom committee, the event promises to be a special night for all those who attend.

Unquestionably ONE-of-a-KIND ...

During the homecoming rally, the sophomores showed great pride and won first place in the class competitions set up by the student council. "It became obvious that we could accomplish anything, even the 'impossible', when we put our minds to it."(J. Ivascyn) The class of '90 is known for their button pins, garland, lights, and various dance themes. "We try to be original in order to create new and exciting activities for the school." (J. Ivascyn) This class is also recognized for having made O.H.S history by holding the first dance ever in the gymnasium on November 6, 1987.

With the support of a wonderful class advisor, Mrs. Casavant, the class has learned to work as a unified group.

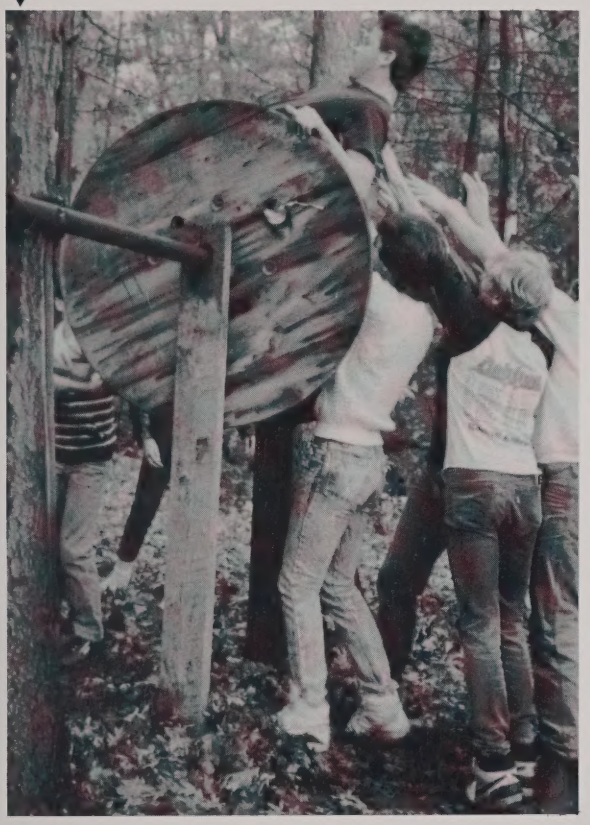
Working together can solve the problem of getting everyone over the 'meat grinder' in the Alpine course.



Class Officers: Tom Godell, Vice President; Jen Ivascyn, President; Jim Esposito, Treasurer; Bonnie Gardener, Secretary.

Project Alpine

Project Alpine is a tenth grade physical education course taken in place of the routine class. The course is a smaller version of the "Outward Bound Program".

The course is designed to help students build self-assurence, esteem, stamina, as well as build up trust and a working relationship with the members of their group. Groups are given problems to solve with a time limit to contemplate and carry out their solution. For example, a group is faced with a 25ft. wall. The task? To get everyone up and over the wall. How is it done? Ask any sophomore!

During the winter months, a basic first aid/ CPR class is taught indoors. By passing this course, students recieve a one year Red Cross certification in CPR.

UNDENIABLY FRESHMAN ...

Becoming an upperclassmen and staying at the bottom of the pile... that's what being a freshman is all about.

This year has proven that being little is a temporary state and no one knows that better than the students in the Class of 1991. The changes that have occurred in the class as well as with its' individual members has been so great that it has had an overall effect on the entire school.

The Freshmen have proven that they have as much spirit as any other class in the high school and that they are not afraid to show it or share it. The Freshman Class Advisor, Mrs. Susan Briody, said that there has been an incredible transistion with the students. They have calmed down from their eigth grade attitudes and gotten into the swing of school activities getting fund-raising activities organized with much help from Mrs. Briody as well as taking third place in the Class with the Most Class Competition.

Being a Freshman means that you are no longer considered a 'little kid' by the upperclassmen but you are not quite yet an 'older kid'. They just can't win! Or can they? The Freshman have made it quite clear that they won't stop trying until they get to the top, and with the hard work and dedication of all, they'll soon be there.

FOUR-QUARTER MINORS ...

Patty LeMay looks surprised to see a photographer instead of her teacher.

Learning the art of caligraphy in Mrs. Briody's Art I class is Renea Wilbur.

Excitement fills homerooms on the first day of school when freshman students find out which minor course they have to start the year. These one term classes are Computer Literacy, Speech, Expository Writing and Health. Information gained from these classes will help the OHS students throughout their lives.

Speech is the art of communicating whether it be voicing opinions, writing, creating art or making music. The class, taught by Mr. Palermo, has open discussions that teach the students about world affairs, local situations, fellow classmates and theirselves. Students also learn to deliver speeches properly, to listen to others opinions and to see all sides of every issue.

Through hands on use of computers students are introduced to todays fascinating technical society. Miss Oinonen first teaches about the hardware and the operations of Oxford High's Vax mini-computer. Then students learn to write BASIC programs and examine some common types of software such as graphics, word processing and data base-programs. Many more things can be learned with extended use of computers in this exciting Computer Literacy class.

In Mrs. Lawrence's Health class, she tries to educate students about serious problems that they may have to face. The biggest topic of discussion this year is the disease AIDS (Acquired Imune Deficiancy Syndrome) and its causes and effects. Other subjects covered are alcohol and drugs; what they are, their cause and effect, as well as addictions and what can be done to help this. Many students get a better grasp on theirs and other peoples health and feel comfortable discussing it and learning about it.

Expository Writing gives students a chance to express themselves by writing short stories, essays, reports, descriptive paragraphs and by writing their feelings down in a daily diary. Proper writing skills are an important part of life. The positive work environment supplied by Mrs. Albergheni encourages the students to use their skills and knowledge to the best of their potential.

▼ During the first week of school, classes are sometimes difficult for eight graders.

The Unavoidable Butterflies...

Knowing quite a few UPPERclassmen can ease the butterflies in the stomachs of the eigth grade students facing their first day of high school, but in the long run, there are always questions and worries that face all the students at one time or another.

"What will the UPPERclassmen think of me?"; "What will my classes be like?"; "How much homework am I going to have to do each night? I hope it's not more than three hours worth!"; "If I ask how to get to the bathroom are the seniors going to tell me it's next to the elevator? Or will someone try to sell me a pool pass?" These worries were put to ease by some of the senior class students and the members of the student council on September 2, 1987 when the Class of 1992 spent their first day of high school being the only students in the school. On September 3, 1987 grades 9-12 attended school and got the yearly briefing on the eigth grade class and were told to make them feel at home... make them feel like a part of the Pirate Family. On September 4, 1987 the eigth graders met with their greatest fear... the "UPPERclassmen"!! This fear was greated with warmth and many helping hands.

The UPPERclassmen proved to be friends and not enemies by helping the eigth graders get involved with the many sports teams, class organized events and school activities proving that the Class of '92 will the trendsetters of their five years in our school and sooner than they think will be UPPERclassmen too!

Learning for Life...

A goal most O.H.S. students have is to succeed, whether it be going to college or dealing with everyday life. Fortunately, our outstanding faculty members have consistantly prepared the students to acheive this goal successfully.

Whether it be in a work field or on to higher education, the dedication and time donated by the teachers at O.H.S. are two important reasons why students here have such a strong educational foundation upon entering college or starting a new job. These two factors are also the reasons why students at O.H.S. are prepared to enter specific fields right out of high school. The skills learned here are ones that will be used throughout a student's life.

The computer, math, and science programs are prime examples of the excellent education offered at O.H.S. The chance to see a hypnotist through the history classes is only one other example of the broad range of learning available from Oxford High School.

Take Your Pick...

There are numerous elective courses available at O.H.S. Each offers a skill which is useful to every student. Taking any of the clothing, foods, typing, or electronic courses can lead a student towards a specific profession or give experience that will be quite useful in later life.

The food classes filled the halls of O.H.S. with the pleasant aromas of their labors, while the clothing classes continued to design articles that would rival those made in Paris. Learning a skill that can be used in any field, the students in the typing classes practiced the techniques necessary to make good typists; the electronics worked on the proper ways to design their highly technical pieces of apparatus.

In all, a student "picking" any of these courses will become more of a well-rounded individual, a credit to the O.H.S. curriculum.

O.H.S. Arts...

The 1987-88 arts program again had a successful year in graphics, technical drawing, wood, metal, and art. Mr. Berthiaume instituted a new study in the new Computer Aided Drafting system, an advanced form of technical drawing. Student interest was overwhelming in this area, a credit to the fine technical drawing here at O.H.S.

As usual, a wood and metal classes design well-crafted projects, making these subjects a favorite among many O.H.S. students. Mr.Stickney's graphics classes also had a successful year, aiding in the printing of many things at O.H.S., such as schedules for sports and various events. Finally, students in Mrs. Briody's art classes learned the skills which every aspiring artist must know, while having fun applying them to their own creations.

Michelle Gedman and Jenifer Turner are in the swing of things at one of the many dances at O.H.S.

Programming...

This was only the second year that the Computer Club has been in existence, and already the club has made big plans for the future. It began this year with the tireless work that the club members did Wednesdays after school, on the Mystery Match computer dating service. The club started by choosing from a great variety of questions, of which only twenty-four could be used. Once this was done, the club went to the homerooms to hand out the question and answer sheets. Students and faculty alike were asked to fill out these forms. Once the forms were collected, the fun really began. Club members spent hours of their time to get all of the data entered into the computer. From there the computer took over, processing each entry against all others to come up with the twenty student match ups and the three faculty match ups for each student. The faculty members were given "Mystery Matches" by the computer as well. Once the computer finished this two week process, the club members sold the results to the students and faculty in the cafeteria. The proceeds went to the purchase of computer equipment for the school and Computer Club activities.

Though the club was populated by younger students, the leadership provided by club President Mike Fields, seniors Pat Boutilette and Dan Charland, and club advisor Mrs. Threadgould helped to make the 1987-88 school year a productive one for the club. The hard work and continued enthusiam of the younger members, including Vice-President Eric Evers, Treasurer Mark Fales, and Secretary Steve Gifford, proved to be a good foundation for the future of the club.

Working With Numbers...

This year has been great for members of the math club. Led by advisor, Mrs. Spinney, the group did very well taking first place in its division after only two meets. The club was led to first place by sophomore Alan Berube, juniors Kirsty Wall, Rick Brown, and Mike Fields, and senior Dan Shea, all are on the club's high scoring group known as Team I. The increasing population of club members has provided two to three other teams per meet. These new members include two eighth graders, three ninth graders, and even more sophomores. This will insure the teams' continued success in the future.

Reporting the Facts...

In its second year at O.H.S., The Pirate Press is still in its development stages. A change in computer software at the beginning of this year has allowed the Press to decrease the period between each issue. The staff which includes members from each class are responsible for writing their articles and getting a hard copy to the editors. The next step in production is layout and finally the graphics shop prints the issue after its having recieved Mr. Bacon's approval.

The staff and editors try hard to continually improve the paper. By the time the class of '89 graduates, The Pirate Press should be firmly established at Oxford High School.

Front: Mr. Stickney, Jessica Pulaski, Beth Samuelson, Michelle Langlois, Mrs. Briody. Middle: Charles Jordan, Daniel Shea, Scott Comptois, Stephen McGrath, Randy Duval. Last: Bill Potter, Peter Sekurski, Henry Sekurski.

The Undercover Staff...

This year's yearbook introduced new ideas in this edition of Ravelin's. The staff contributed much time and effort to organize and complete this book. It took a lot of devotion to create a publication which best captures the memories of being O.H.S. pirates. We appreciate the help from our classmates and advisors.

Helping O.H.S.

There are four groups of students which must be mentioned. They are the helping hands of the school. They are the Office, Guidance, Library, and I.S.S. Aides. Each member of these groups volunteered their time at the beginning of the year to help out. The office aides help the secretaries in any way possible. The guidance aides bring notices from the guidance department around the school. The I.S.S. aides help those busy teachers who guard the I.S.S. room, and the library aides help the librarians by finding materials for students when they need it. These people deserve a hand from us.

N.H.S.

The National Honor Society is an organization made up of students who are above average academically and extra-curricularily. Each member must have an average above 87 in all their classes and must be inducted by a panel of teachers.

The group, led by Mr. Esposito, has fund raisers to raise money to be used in scholarships. They do this by having bake sales and other fund raisers, such as selling candy apples at Homecoming.

Student Council...

One very important group in our school is the student council. They have gone to the limits of their ability in improving our school. They have had fund raisers of all kinds including homecomming, dances, and many others. They use the money made to help our school and community.

One important thing they have done was the senior citizens spaghetti supper. There they served dinner and drinks to the senior citizens while they were entertained by members of the music department. They also provided us with the election process for G.G.D.R. and had the annual school clean-up.

They are indeed an important group.

Sounds of Music...

This year's musical groups include the band, senior chorus, freshman chorus, and the jazz rock combo.

The band returned this year, after a successful trip to Toronto, Canada in '87 where they won an award for excellence. The band is planning a trip to Orlando, Florida for '89.

The senior chorus is mostly made up of seniors, juniors and sophomores. This year they performed at Quincy Market during the holiday season. The organizers of the "Holiday Concerts" have already invited them to make a return appearance next year.

The freshman chorus members were busy preparing their voices in order to move up to the senior chorus next year.

The jazz rock combo is a new type of stage band. They have a unique sound that is interesting to listen to at any concert.

Off and Running...

It was an inspirational season for both the girls and boys cross country teams. The boys returned from a winless '86 season with a new attitude and much promise. The girls returned with more expierenced running skills, under the expert coaching of Maria Mauro. With the influence of captians senior, Steve McGrath and junior, Sue Metcalf the team strived for excellence with junior Brian Prunier becoming the premier runner in the league placing first in many races. Overall the 1987 season proved to be a success because of the improvements made, as well as an enjoyable and positive experience.

Togetherness is the Key to Success!

Despite a 2-1 lose to Bancroft in the opening round of District play, this year was a year of mile stones. The Oxford girls tied Uxbridge 1-1 in a hard fought battle. It is the only blemish for the Spartans in 5 seasons. This year's squad was led by tri-captains: Kim McGovern, Karin Peterson, and Maureen Stake. Leading goal scorers were Donna Potter with 13 goals, 7 assists and Jill O'Connell with 12 goals, 10 assists. The net was well protected by junior goalie Danelle Holbrook with support from senior sweeper Cathy Coonan. Danelle and the defense combined for a school record of 8 shut-outs; while Danelle went on to lead the league in goaltending all cruing only 16 goals in 19 games. The 1987 field hockey team finishes with an impressive 11-5-3 record.

"I feel very fortunate to have been a part of this talented group of athletes. I am confident that the enthusiasm and leadership displayed by this year's squad will carry over for a successful 1988 season."-C.S.

On the Ball...

The girls soccer team had another outstanding season once again. But then again, what's to be expected from a group of young ladies who will accept nothing but the best ?! Better than the best !

Hard work, long practices, determination, self and group confidence,...the list goes on. This team has it all and showed their competition no mercy.

Senior captians Arlene Brigham and Michelle Langlois along with Coach Andy Boyle brought out the spunk in the strong team. Kelly Miller led the pack in number goals scored with Kim Bilodeau close behind. Quick passes and team work on the offense and strong defensive line were this groups key to success.

The girls will be returning next year with talent and good spirits to carry them through the third season of play.

Both Arlene and Michelle would like to wish all the future teams success.

Leader of the Pack...

The 1987 fall soccer season was a tremendous experience for the players of the teams. The boys were coached by new instructors Rick Rheault, varsity coach, and Robert LaPointe, JV coach. They had talent, good spirits, and devotion but, not luck. Most of the team's losses were by a margin of one or two goals making them very disappointing losses. Varsity's record was 9-7-2, while JV had a 10-2-1 record.

Bad luck was shown in the varsity's district play. In the first round of the tournament, Oxford played against Auburn. The winning goal was scored by the opponent with three seconds left to play during the second period of the first overtime. This sent Oxford home suffering from the agony of defeat.

Leaving the team are nine seniors including captains Jeremy Walsh and Kevin Biando.

With the pride that the younger team members have developed, next year's Pirate soccer teams will be the dark horse candidates of the Southern Worcester County League.

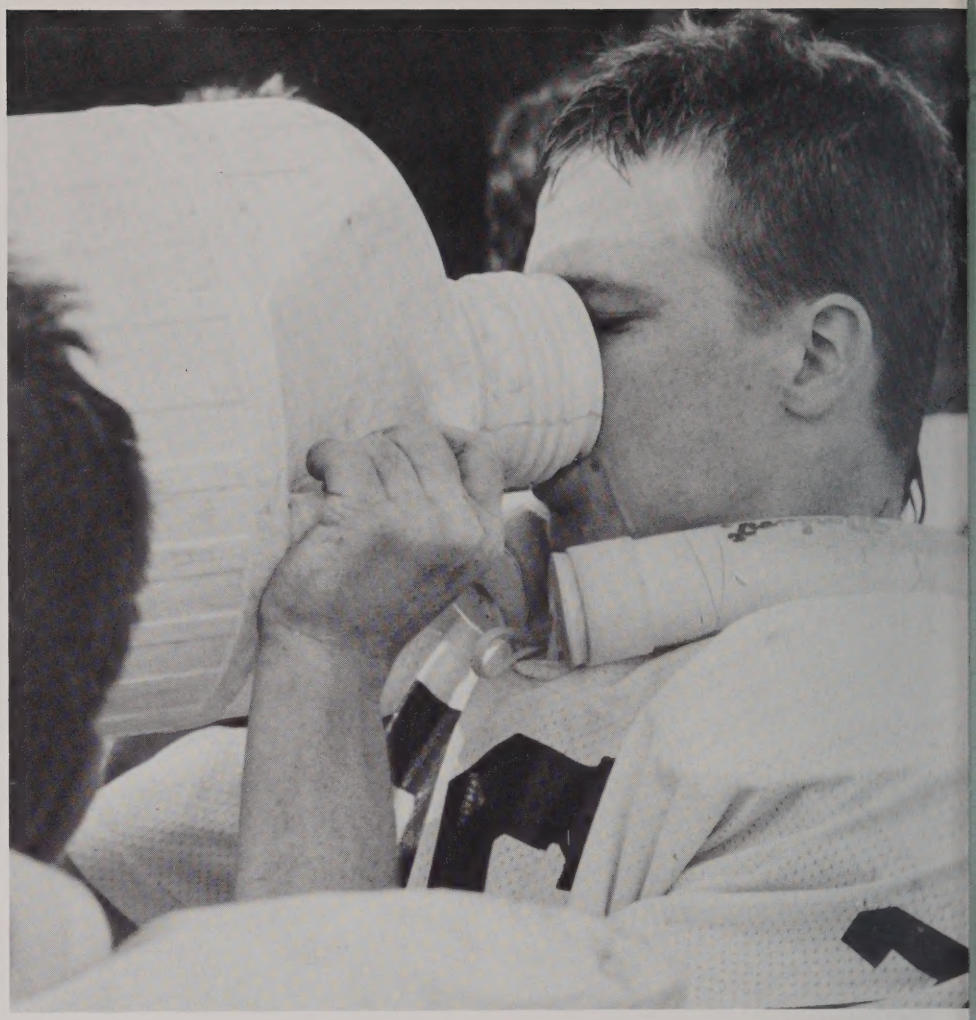
Against All Odds...



This years football season had the young Pirates team winning their first game against Nashoba Tech 14-0, then losing ground with a tough loss to Grafton 7-6. Playing hard and the best under head coach Mark Shea the team suffered some more losses and a 6-6 tie with Millbury. Due to personal reasons, Coach Shea resigned before the teams last two games.

Athletic Director John Doldoorian, teacher Bob Constanzo, and alumni player Mike O'Brien took over the lagging Pirates. After long grueling practices and learning new offenses and defenses, this year's football highlight came with the Thanksgiving Day victory over Auburn 14-13.

Senior Jeff Wing was this years recipient of Stephen D. Synder award. Tri-captains David Smith, Jeff Wing and Mark Frappier are all in agreement that next year's team will be a great success due to the experience and knowledge the team gained in this past season.

Striving for Perfection...

The Boy's basketball Team was led by nine seniors, including capatain Glenn Murphy.

Under the direction of Coach Kevin Wells, the team played through a rough season and managed to hold a respectable place in the league.

They enjoyed a full season of practicing, winning, and losing together. A team spirit was especially evident throughout the squad during the 1987-88 season.

The Junior Varsity team also had a commendable record. Under the direction of coach Paul Bolio, the players have shown much promise, causing a bright outlook for the OHS basketball program.

Up, Up and Away!

The girls varsity Basketball team led by Coach Doldoorian and Senior captains Lori Belliveau, Kim Mcgovern, Jill O'Connell, and Donna Potter, posted their most impressive record of the past three years. In 1987-1988 the Lady Pirates were a team to contend with in District E.

The JV Lady Pirates were very young, with a team comprised of ten eighth graders and a freshman. Coached by Maria Mauro, they had compiled a successful record against their opponents.

Twist and Shout!

For the football season, the captians of the cheerleading squad were Darnell Berry and Paula Bovenzi. The captain for the basketball season was Darnell Berry. The squad grew close over the year which helped them to do better and strive for more.

They put in a lot of hours practicing throughout the year. Over the summer, they attended a camp for four days where they received many ribbons and were chosen as one of the four best sqauds there. During the summer, there were practices Monday through Friday from 10AM to noon and during school, everyday for an hour. The squad started the year with 12 members and ended with 10.

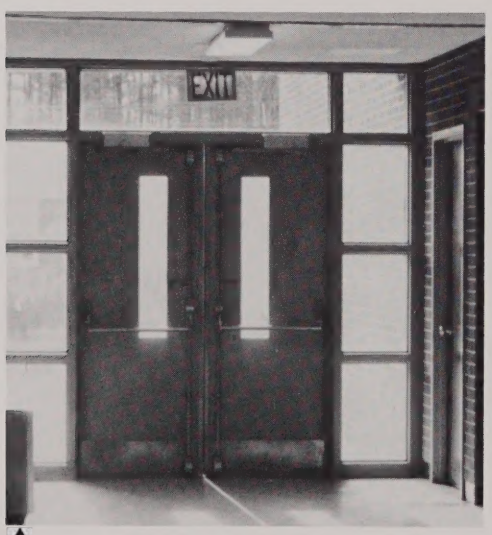
Unbelievable Year...

We leave behind empty classrooms that have held us together for another school year. These rooms have held more than just individual students, teachers, and books. They hold many friendships and memories for those that attend Oxford High School.

We, the Co-editors would like to thank all of the staff, students, and close friends for making this year so memorable. Our yearbook staff has done a remarkable job working undercover to make this yearbook great! Thanks to one and all.



The last scene that the seniors will see is an O.H.S. exit which is also an entrance to a bright, new future.

Soon, after the last student leaves OHS for summer break, the halls will be empty except for the pride and spirit that always exists here.

▼Every student can learn a valuable amount of information in the O.H.S. classrooms.

▲Once again, the doors of this school will open up and welcome its' students to another exciting year.

Beth Samuelson and Vickie Hollis help Kirsty Wall count the yearbook treasury.

Senior Class President, Sean Preston, counts the yearbook money that was collected from selling yearbook ads.

Glenn,
Congratulations. We are very proud of the young man you have become. Retain the values you have always cherished. The courage to always do what is right. Your sense of humor. Keep all things in perspective and remember that we are always here for you, for your happiness is ours. Love,
Mom, Dad, & Joe

Dear Ricky,
We have been privilaged to be your parents.
We know that you will succeed in life in whatever you do because you are special.
We love you.
Mom & Dad

Jelly,
Thanks for your friendship in the past 5 years.

Tammy,
Your family loves you so very much and we're so proud of you. Continue to set your goals as you always have and your dreams are to come true.
Congratulations.
Mom, Dad, Gary, & Dale

Jill,
To our #1 daughter. Don't ever change a thing about yourself. We love you just the way you are.
Mom & Dad

Dear Kim,
Thank you! You have turned, what some parents consider a great chore, into one of the greatest pleasures of our life.
Love always,
Dad & Mom

Dear Patti Anne,
Congratulations — we are very proud of you and love you very much.
You already know that you are the pride and joy of our family.
May all your dreams come true.
Love,
Mom & Dad

MUCH LOVE FOR A LONG FUTURE, FULL OF MANY SUCCESSES.

We would like to thank the following people for their outstanding dedication to the 1988 Ravelin's Staff:

Michelle Langlois, Jessica Pulaski, Henry Sekurski, Peter Sekurski, Daniel Shea, Wayne Zarycki, Stephen McGrath, Randy Duval, Matthew Longwell, Bethany Samuelson, Michael Fields, Scott Comptois, and Darryl Moiles.

Your professional attitude, your desire to make the best book possible, and your willingness to put in those many, many hours has made this a quality publication of which you should be extremely proud. You have been a terrific group, and we would like to thank you for being so fun to work with.

Good luck and best wishes for a bright and happy future,

Mrs. Briody and Mr. Stickney advisors to the yearbook staff

I've beckoned you to enter this book and go through each section in my file so, now my task is done.
I hope you've enjoyed reading all of my work that I've uncovered. It was delightful to reveal the many moments and memories throughout your year, to work for your yearbook staff and advisors:
undercover !

Sincerely,

Simon Wilson
